Mr. Morey has been employed in Jamestown, N. D., for the past two years. Congratulations.

Hour-Glass Auctioneer.

An ancient custom has just been observed at Chard, Somerset, England, when a meeting of the burghesses conducted the annual letting of the market tolls. An hour-glass was set, and while the sand trickled from one half to the other bids were made. The buyer of the tolls was determined by the last bid before the sand ran down.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Morrisville Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Morrisville readers.

Geo. E. Tift, Elmore St., Morrisville, says:—"Doan's Kidney Pills have been of more benefit to me than any other medicine I have used for my kidneys. I have taken them for weakness and lameness in my back and they helped me wonderfully. My work obliges me to do much heavy lifting and my kidneys were affected in that way. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and restored my kidneys to their proper working order."

Prices 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Tift has twice publicly recommended. Foster-McLure Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

You've hit the right tobacco when you fire-up some Prince Albert in your old jimmy pipe or in a makin's cigarette. And you know it! Can't get in wrong with P. A. for it is made right; made to spread-smoke-sunshine among men who have suffered with scorched tongues and parched throats! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch. All day long you'll sing how glad you are you're pals with the national joy smoke

You take this testimony straight from the shoulder, men. You can smoke a barrel of P. A. without a kick! It hands out all the tobacco happiness any man ever dreamed about, it's so smooth and friendly. It's a mighty cheerful thing to be on talking-terms with your pipe and your tongue at the same time—but that's what's coming to you sure as you pin your faith to Prince Albert!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

It's an easy job to change the shape and color of unsalable brands to imitate the Prince Albert tidy red tin, but it is impossible to imitate the flavor of Prince Albert tobacco! The patented process protects that!

Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert awaiting your cheerful visit. Buy it in tippy red bags, 5c tins, 10c tins, 10c hand-rolled and half-pound tins—and in that classy pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco so fit!

SAFETY FOR THE WOUNDED

Bullet-Proof Stretcher Devised for Soldiers Who Have to Be Carried From the Front.

Fighting conditions have become so strenuous in the war zone that there is no certainty when or where hospital attendants or Red Cross men will be given immunity from attack when performing their duties of rescuing the wounded, and this is especially the case when working between the lines of opposing trenches, for the ever-present "sniper" is always on the look out for a victim. To meet these conditions a bullet-proof stretcher cover has been invented, which appears to meet the conditions perfectly. This consists of a long metal shield, arched at the top, and high enough to enable the attendants to stand upright within. At the front end the shield is rounded and sloped backwards to deflect bullets, and two "eyes" are provided, through which the attendants can see to direct their course and locate the wounded. The whole contrivance is mounted on four wheels, and is provided with arrangements for supporting a stretcher. With this contrivance two hospital attendants can make their way in safety over a field exposed to rifle fire, and after rolling the shield over a wounded soldier, he is placed on the stretcher, when a retreat is made to a place of safety.

Natural Prejudices.

I confess that I do feel the differences of mankind, national or individual, to an unhealthy excess, wrote Charles Lamb. I can look with no indifferent eye upon things or persons. Whatever is, is to me a matter of taste or distaste; or when once it becomes indifferent, it begins to be disliking. I am, in plainer words, a bundle of prejudices—made up of likings and dislikings—the veriest thrall to sympathies, antipathies, antipathies. In a certain sense, I hope it may be said of me that I am a lover of my species. I can feel for all indifferently, but I cannot feel towards all equally. The more purely English word that expresses sympathy will better explain my meaning. I can be a friend to a worthy man, who upon another account cannot be my mate or fellow. I cannot like all people alike.

Mixed Entertainment.

"That monologist used to be a race track habitue, I understand." "Yes. He followed the ponies." "Just so. And now I see by the bill that he follows the monkeys."

CLERK ALL RUN DOWN

Restored To Health By Vinol

Shelbyville, Ind.—"I am a clerk in a hotel and was all run down, no energy, my blood was poor and my face covered with pimples. I got so weak I had to put up an awful fight to keep at work. After taking many other remedies without benefit Vinol has restored my health and strength."—ROY F. BIRD.

For all run-down, weak, nervous conditions of men and women, nothing equals Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil. Try it on our guarantee.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL.

There is no experiment more striking than this. Take 2 persons who are even a moderate drinker of alcohol. Let that person take his pulse in a standing position, and take it in a recumbent position in ordinary everyday life, and let him do so when there is no alcohol in his body, and when there is a dose. He finds that when in health, his heart is automatically slowed when he lies down, but that under the influence of alcohol this does not occur, or is very much reduced in its character, and wholly, as we know, by the fact that this tempering with the nerves has resulted in the heart being to a certain degree emancipated from the healthy and normal discipline which it should be under, and which nature ordained that it should be under. We have therefore to regard alcohol as a paralytic or narcotic agent entirely, and if you investigate the reasons why people take it, you will find invariably that it is for paralytic action rather than for the stimulant.

The feeling of fatigue which we all experience is a very healthy symptom. It is a little message from nature saying that we are overdoing it, and if alcohol is taken you cut off and stop that nerve message. The engineer on board a steamer who tells you that his boilers are magnificent boilers because they never give too high or too low a pressure, and when you look at the pressure gauges you find they have been tampered with so that the correct steam pressure is not shown by them, occupies the same position as a man who explains his feelings under alcohol.

I would like you to think of the body when alcohol is circulating in it as being interfered with—to use that French saying which is on the penny-in-the-slot weighing machine—"Please don't brutalize the machine."—Prof. W. A. Osborne, M. B., C. Ch., D. Sc.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC GOING UNDER.

The Toledo Blade calls attention to the fact that every few days there is recorded some new step in the ultimate extermination of the liquor traffic. It says: "A brewery or distillery goes out of business. A manufacturer of bar fixtures decides to manufacture something else. An industrial plant announces that test-tubes will have first choice when jobs are distributed or promotions made. Railroad companies tighten the application of the rule against drinking. The revenue from beer and whisky falls off and the secretary of the treasury looks for new sources of income. And so, week after week and month after month, the forces against liquor increase in numbers, the territory wherein liquor selling is profitable becomes more and more restricted."

ADVANCE IN SOUTH AMERICA

Rapid Development of Argentine Republic Has Equalled Anything in the History of the World.

The difference between the Argentine republic of 1880 and the same nation in 1915 is as Bishop Stuntz told the Knife and Fork club the other night.

In the 35 years between those dates the Argentine has seen the greatest boom ever experienced by any agricultural country under the sun. Western Canada not excepted. Agricultural land then selling for three to five cents an acre brings $300 an acre now. Land in downtown Buenos Aires that sold for $2 a square meter last summer, in 15 years the Argentine increased its land under cultivation 255 per cent. And why?

Because back in 1855 an ingenious North American discovered ice could be made artificially and by 1880 the refrigerator ship was launched. The Argentine is and has always been primarily a cattle country. The foot-and-mouth disease has always been prevalent there and as a consequence Europe has enforced a rigid quarantine on South American cattle on the hoof. The meat could not be shipped, dressed, without ice. But it could after the refrigerator ship came. The Argentine soon had the European beef market cornered, and its prosperity began.

While artificial ice has not "made" the United States, it has made life worth living here. You who can remember back to 1870, when there were but five artificial ice plants in the nation, have some idea of the comforts it has brought.—Kansas City Star.

Maybe He Will Go With It.

A journal devoted to economics records the passing of the dish towel. The dish towel violates too many sanitary ethics. And now what's to become of the henpecked husband who has always wiped the dishes?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BIG IMPETUS FOR ESTABROOK BOOM

"Dark Horse" For Republican Presidential Nomination.

NATIONAL DEFENSE PIONEER

Known as Fearless Advocate of Traditional Republican Principles—Also Recognized as One of Ablest Campaigners in United States.

Far and away the most interesting phase of the national political situation is the movement that has brought Henry D. Estabrook, of New York and Nebraska, so prominently to the front as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. First spoken of as a possibility in connection with the presidency less than six months ago, Mr. Estabrook is today one of the leading candidates, with evidences of strength that are a source of concern to the friends of the other aspirants.

He has made speeches in every important city in the East, Middle West, and Far West, an arduous campaign experience that has put him in good condition to meet the rigorous demands made in the head of a party's national ticket, and his friends in Nebraska and other States have formed Estabrook organizations and are going after national delegates in the most vigorous fashion.

Impartial observers agree that this development of the Estabrook boom has no parallel in the political history of the last 25 years, and they are beginning to inquire whether the popular demand for new leadership is actually so strong as to give this new man the greatest political prize over which men struggle.

An All Around Big Man.

Estabrook is a big man physically, mentally and politically. Quite six feet in height, erect, rugged, he would be a man of commanding presence in any gathering. His mental attainments are attested by his signal success in the practice of law and by the widespread interest in his every public utterance on governmental, economic and social problems. He has always been a student and when he discusses a subject he speaks with the authority of one who has mastered it. His conclusions are invariably sound, and, once he has arrived at them, they are proclaimed frankly and fearlessly, for he is essentially a man with the courage of his convictions.

For instance, he has been one of the most drastic critics of President Wilson and the present Democratic administration, arraigning them for their tariff law which bankrupted the federal treasury and which places the American farmer, the American manufacturer, and the American laborer at the mercy of foreign competition, and for a foreign policy which has destroyed the respect that the American flag and American citizens once commanded in every quarter of the globe.

A Preparedness Pioneer.

Likewise Mr. Estabrook was the first man prominently before the public to outline a concrete program of national defense, which he presented in an address before the American Bankers' Association September 8th last at Seattle, characterized by the Seattle Times as "one of the most remarkable addresses ever delivered in the Northwest," and he was the first Republican leader to point the way to the reunion and harmonizing of all elements of the party, his "Get-Together" plea before the McKinley Club of Omaha, Nebraska, last October, having attracted widespread attention.

From the time Mr. Estabrook opened the Republican National campaign in Chicago in 1896 he has been recognized as one of the ablest campaigners in the United States, and there have been few speakers in greater demand.

The issues in the great contest of 1916, which is to restore the Republican party to the administration of national affairs, will be Protection, Prosperity, and Preparedness. In Mr. Estabrook's judgment, with "Get-Together" as the slogan for Republicans of every shade of opinion. He has been preaching this gospel in all sections of the country, and has met with enthusiastic receptions everywhere he has gone.
